

artnet

Editors' Picks: 19 Things Not to Miss in New York's Art World This Week

Wednesday, June 5 2019

Artist Alex Katz. Photo by Christopher Lane/Contour by Getty Images.

6. "Downtown Painting" at Peter Freeman

This show, which is organized in collaboration with Alex Katz, is curated in the spirit of the downtown New York painting scene of the 1950s and '60s, when artists created works that were "intuitive, self-indulgent, and not made to fit comfortably into a home or institution," according to a release. The show includes works by 70 artists, and each living contributor (Dana Schutz, Sylvia Plimack Mangold, and Lois Dodd among them) will show a picture of his or her choice.

Location: Peter Freeman, 140 Grand Street

Price: Free

Time: Opening reception, 6 p.m.–8 p.m.; Tuesday–Saturday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m.

—Pac Pobric